The appropriate extension fee under 37 CFR 1.17(a) is calculated from: (1) the expiration date of the shortened statutory period for reply originally set in the final Office action; or (2) as set forth in (b) above, if checked. Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of the final rejection, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Application No.

Continuation of 11. does NOT place the application in condition for allowance because: Applicant's arguments are not found persuasive. Applicant argues the Office action filed March 13, 2006 was improperly made final. This is incorrect. The Final rejection was proper because it was based on Applicant's Amendment to the claims filed on May 13, 2005. While a Pre-Appeal Brief may have directly proceeded the action, it can still be properly made final. In addition, Applicant's arguments regarding the criticality of the switch are not found persuasive. One of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made would have expected Applicant's invention to work just as well with the switch on an alternative location, such as on the pivoting motor assembly. While Applicant tries to argue reasons why the claimed location may be preferable, these reasons are not part of the original disclosure.
